

No-till Garbanzos
Early-season crop field viewing event

April 18th

9:00 – 9:30 AM

University of California Five Points Field Station

Lassen and Oakland Avenues

17353 W. Oakland Avenue

Five Points, CA 93624

This will be an informal field viewing opportunity for anyone interested in no-tillage crop establishment. Participants will have an opportunity to take a look at the 2016 garbanzo crop systems that have been established in standard tillage with and without cover crops and no-tillage with and without cover crops. The study site is part of the long-standing Conservation Agriculture Systems Innovation (CASI) Center's study that began in 1999 at the site.

The open house field day will be from 9:00 to 9:30 AM.

Meet at the Field Station's parking and follow signs to the garb field which is in the northwest corner of the Station.

Further information is available from Jeff Mitchell at (559) 303-9689 or jpmitchell@ucdavis.edu.